About Richard

With nearly 25 years' experience working in professional services and education, Richard is a driving force behind transformative learning experiences across the globe. While his roots are in the UK, he has worked extensively across Asia, Europe and the US.

Richard's expertise lies in unlocking the potential of law firm partners at every stage of their journey. He has designed and delivered innovative programmes for partner candidates, new partners, and those on the equity pathway, blending strategic insight with practical leadership development. His one-to-one coaching sessions are renowned for their impact, helping hundreds of professionals—from aspiring leaders to seasoned managing partners—reach new heights.

As a facilitator, Richard brings energy and dynamism to every workshop and training session. He has worked with senior leadership teams and boards, delivering thousands of hours of in-person sessions to groups of all sizes, including conference sessions of up to 200 people. Richard's hands-on approach prioritises engagement and practical outcomes over academic theory, while seamlessly integrating proven models when they add genuine value.

As an accredited executive coach, Richard has helped numerous individuals and teams through pivotal moments, fostering growth, resilience and leadership excellence. His work with senior leadership teams and boards has shaped organisational cultures and inspired lasting change.
